HAYDEN, Sept. 8.—In what proved to be a comedy of errors Hester's Miners defeated the Mill boys here this afternoon in a very close contest which was anybody's game until the visitors took a lead of two in the eighth, the final result being five to two for the Miners. Toner was not working as well as usual yielding fourteen hits and at the same time receiving unusually poor support from the team. Team work of the Ray boys was equally poor but Jack Bromley did nice work in the box keeping well scattered the eight hits recorded against him.

The Mill boys were first to bat and started off quite briskly by taking two hits and getting several on the base. But they were unable to make good and received a first-out. In the third Toner was first out and flew out to center. While then grounded to left for a safe two-sacker. Galena followed with a hot one to Hester at first base which Herb fumbled permitting the batter to get safe while Wilde crossed the plate. Powell then sent a grounder right over second for two bases scoring Galena. With two scores and only one out it looked as if the home team had started something but Zamloch flew out to Hester and Bauer sent an easy one down to short retiring the side. Several times after this the home boys got on and it looked as if they would get all the way around but not so and theirs was a perfect string of goose-eggs after the third.

The visitors got their start with two in the fourth. Gay was first up in this inning and sent a grounder to short making first as Wilde failed to get the ball. Mitchell, Ray's new second baseman, then flew safe to right advancing Gay to third. Driscoll was next and also flew safe to right scoring Gay and placing Mitchell on third. Arbogast was safe on a grounder to second scoring Mitchell. Pendleton and Bromley fanned and Scanlon went out when he sent one down to short and the side retired with the score tied. This condition obtained until the eighth when a combination of errors and timely hitting gave the visitors a lead of two and clinched the game. Gay was first and hit to short reaching first as Zamloch fumbled. Mitchell then sent one to third and got safe on Lorenson's error. Driscoll sacrificed advancing Gay and Mitchell. Arbogast's trusty stick then sent a safe grounder to center scoring Gay and Mitchell. Pendleton fanned. Bromley reached first on Lorenson's error and then Scanlon flew out to left retiring the side. In the ninth Hester grounded over second sack for his fourth hit in the game completing a perfect batting record for the day and Demaggio followed with another one to the same quarter. Hester was put out while playing off second and Gay retired on sending one to short but Mitchell followed with a two-sacker to center scoring Demaggio. Driscoll was third out flying to second.

There was a good crowd out and the Noyah Club band discoursed music at intervals through the afternoon.

Lorenson, who presided at third for the Millers this afternoon, was recently released by the Smelterites and will probably take care of this position until the new third baseman arrives. The Mill team has been much crippled since the loss of Duddy who left a few days ago.

Observations On Pennant Contests

By LYLE ABBOTT

Have you bought a r. r. ticket to the worlds series?

Where to go on my vacation never did present any puzzling aspects than the present problem of which of the well known towns is going to be host to the crowds that gather for the big fall play between the famous National and American leagues. Right now, we know of nearly half a dozen popular resorts that may be bidding for the attendance of the fans in about a month.

Victories by both Boston and Detroit in the R. Johnson circuit yesterday, left things much as they were two dozen hours before. But the pot of baseball dope is boiling with increased heat. Bubbles frequently spatter out where you can get 'em.

Right now, the American League race is proving the more exciting of the two, although there is one less factor. While everybody is admiring the manly struggles of Boston and Brooklyn, most folks believe Philadelphia is a winner, and that the terrible scrap is really over who shall receive the sincere but madening sympathy over having "fit" a good fight, and lost the pennant by a few measly games.

However the races end, the coming world's series is sure to be an exciting one. Some excellent pitching will be opposed to some exalted batting. Personally, we believe the quickest plum for the fans would be the sight of T. Raymond Cobb, wagging a bat, with Veach or Crawford on first, the score tied in the last of the ninth, and the sum of this world's happiness depending on the next ball Grover Cleveland Alexander pitches. This, most ardent of contending fans who have passed on into the land of perpetual double-headers.

Cobb has not swung a bat in a world's series since 1909, and many common bleachers would like to know if he has fanged how or about. We figure that he would be just about as dangerous a guy as we know of, in such a situation, despite the fact that he has aged somewhat.

Our pal Harry Williams of L. Angeles, being good at permutation and combinations, figures that there are six possible pairs of contenders for highest honors. He lists them:

Red Sox vs. Braves
Red Sox vs. Superbas
Red Sox vs. Phillies
Tigers vs. Braves

Tigers vs. Phillies
Tigers vs. Superbas.

And they would all make pretty scrumptious battles, sezze.

Yesterday's second clash at Philadelphia again proved the unwisdom of John J. McGraw in dumping pitching material overboard. It was another case of Mr. Patrick J. Moran's sagaciousness in the use of Al Demaree and Al Exander. And what do you know about one Dooin, catching for the Joints? These he mingled up times!

It must be disgustin' to Tyler to hold a team to one hit, good at the scoring stand for one run, and have his gang sweat safe twice for no runs at all.

We bet that was some shock to Cincinnati—winning two games in one day. A Cincinnati guy once said, "Well, the Reds seldom lose more than seven games a week—cause why? That's all they usually play."

We were puzzled for a time trying to figure out how the Phillies, Braves, Superbas, Red Sox, Tigers, Pittseds, Seals, Angels, and other leading ball clubs could amass such leads. But upon casting an eye over the list of losses by Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Oakland we got wise.

Ernest C. Shore now joins the big flock of one and two-hit pitchers in the big brush.

Ocean-to-Ocean Highway Bulletin

Published Weekly in The Magdalena News for Week Ending Sept. 2, 1915.

Trinidad, Colo., Sept. 2.—All roads in this part of the state in finest of condition. All roads leading from Trinidad are better than any time this season.—Association Garage.

Santa Fe, N. M., Sept. 2.—Weather fine. Road between Santa Fe and Albuquerque in good condition. Also road between Santa Fe and Las Vegas.—James A. French, State Engineer.

Magdalena, N. M., Sept. 2.—Roads from Socorro to Magdalena and west to Springville in good condition. Local rains, but not enough to hurt roads, but rather will improve them.—J. S. Mactavish.

Phoenix, Sept. 9.—The proposal of the Salt River Valley Water Users' Association to make a toll road of the scenic highway between Phoenix and Roosevelt, with the result of increase in the appropriation for work on that stretch, will insure to the benefit of the Ocean to Ocean highway in that it will improve one stretch of it. The law sharps are now looking in their books to see whether the association is legally able to institute a toll.

Springville, Ariz., Sept. 2.—Road to Quemado in good order. Road to White River also in good shape.—Gustav Becker.

Yuma, Ariz., Sept. 12.—Rains the last day or so have greatly benefited roads west of Yuma especially between Yuma and Holtville. Not enough rain to help the sand greatly and lay the dust for some time. Between Phoenix and Yuma the road will be muddy for a couple of days and then will be much better than for several months. Yuma county has completed five miles of graded and surfaced road between Yuma and Dome thus eliminating the bog holes that have in the past caused trouble in wet weather.—Riley's Garage.

C. C. IS VERY BUSY OUTFIT THESE DAYS

As a result of numerous cases of out of town business, the force of the corporation commission is rather badly split up at the present time.

This morning, William Sanister, secretary of the commission will leave for Prescott where he will make an examination of the books of the Prescott Gas and Electric company. He will probably be absent until the sixteenth.

Commissioner Jones, Ben Ferguson, the commissioner's engineer, and Miss Davis, who will act as reporter, left for Miami where a hearing of the case concerning the hearing of the case Live Oak Addition to the town of Miami will take place.

From that place they will go to Globe, an investigation into the rates of the auto lines running between Globe, Miami, Copper Hill and Roosevelt. On the eleventh an informal complaint preferred by the Dominion Hotel against the Globe Light and Power company, will be heard.

Commissioner Cole, who has been absent at Kingman, hearing telephone cases, will be back Sunday.

The commission handed down a rate authority affecting the rates of the Mascot and Western, a new road recently opened. The rates were materially reduced.

Another rate authority passed out by the commission, make a rate of 5 cents a hundred on coke from Jerome and Jerome Junction to Clarkdale. This was made to facilitate the moving of coke from the abandoned smelter at Jerome.

BIRDS AND BIRDS FOR MULLIGAN

Several Hunting Parties Go Out and Bring in Stacks of Doves and Whitewings for Big Moose Feed on Saturday.

About thirty members of Phoenix lodge, No. 708, Loyal Order of Moose, went out yesterday afternoon and, after a prodigious expenditure of ammunition, secured several hundred doves and white wings to furnish the basis for the big mulligan planned for Saturday evening at Moose Home. The birds were put in cold storage last evening and will be in fine shape for the chef at the proper time.

Several automobiles were donated by members and friends of the order and ammunition was provided for those who arrived without that needful accessory. Romaine Fielding, with his big Mitchell car, was on hand, accompanied by Chief of Police George O. Brisbois and three other members of the order and went out in the Chandler and Mesa district. The exact number of birds brought back by this contingent will never be made public. All that can be said of the number is that there were considerably over 100 doves that fell before the might of this quintet of hunters.

One reason why this party was so successful was that most of the birds were blind from birth. Also they were educated birds. They had been taught that the safest place was on the barrel and grab a bird. When this became tiresome the party came home. During the intervals between the shooting Fielding was occupied in preparing his speech for Saturday evening. His subject will be "Birds." He will be limited to ten minutes.

Anyhow, the Moose mulligan is going to be a success. There are plenty of birds on hand and there will be no charge for admission. In fact, everything will be free to Moose and their invited guests.

The program as presented in The Republican yesterday morning will be carried out in full. Governor Hunt and Mayor Young will be there and each will have something interesting to say. The festivities will begin at 8:30 o'clock sharp.

45 TONS HONEY SHIPPED EAST

William Lossing Consigns Biggest Shipment of the Sweet Stuff Ever Sent Out of Arizona to Cincinnati Jobbers.

William Lossing, pioneer honey producer of the Salt River Valley, inaugurated the first big special yesterday when he loaded what is said to be the largest single shipment of honey ever sent out of Arizona. Ninety thousand pounds of the sweet stuff was placed in a car on the Santa Fe tracks and this morning will leave for the north, en route toward Cincinnati, where it will be turned over to the consignee.

Lossing, who owns five ranches and, in addition to the product of his own apiaries, collects and ships honey from a number of other apiarists in the state, is one of the oldest promoters of this line of industry in the state. His annual shipments are larger than any other in Arizona, but the crest was reached yesterday, with this big carload.

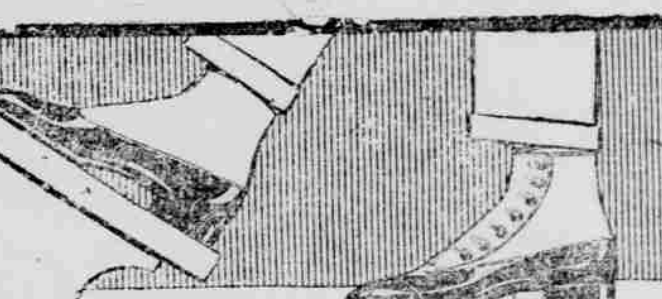

The honey was shipped in five-railon tins, having been collected and strained here in the valley.

Men! It's Time You Were Thinking of FALL SHOES

We've been thinking about them a long time—spent months in preparation for what we believe will be the biggest season in our history.

We've assembled a fall stock of men's shoes that should win the admiration of every particular dresser. See especially the Grosset shoe—the shoe that is nationally advertised.

GREAT DRAMA TO APPEAR AT ELKS

Guy Bates Post in "Omar, the Tentmaker," to Open Dramatic Season Next Week—An Immense and Beautiful Production.

For the first time in many, many moons Phoenix is to enjoy a really great dramatic production, and the indications are that it will make the most of it. Guy Bates Post in "Omar the Tentmaker" is one of the most notable attractions on the stage today, and almost unquestionably the most beautiful production on the road.

It will be a revelation to lovers of its superb lighting effects; but it is not dependent on beauty alone for drawing power. The story of Omar Khayyam as told by Mr. Tully in this play is not only always interesting, but very frequently thrilling and Mr. Tully's interpretation of the part is a delight. In securing it for the first road attraction to come to the Elks theater since it has passed under his management Ed Redmond feels that he is more than usually fortunate and believes that it will give to the amusement-seekers of Phoenix an idea of what he is trying to do for them this season. Certainly no dramatic attraction which has been seen here in the past few years can be compared with this production.

In writing his play, "Omar the Tentmaker," Mr. Tully has interwoven many of the most widely known legends and facts concerning the life of Omar Khayyam, whose full name by the way was Ghais ud-din Abul Fath Omar bin Ibrahim Al Khayyam. He tailed himself of the story of the tripartite agreement for their mutual advantage of Omar Khayyam and Hasan bin Sabah—in fact it is the structural basis of the whole drama, and although critics have questioned its authenticity, they certainly make splendid dramatic material.

It was at first intended to have a matinee performance, but owing to the immensity of the production it has been found impossible to do this, so the only performance will be given on Monday night. Seats are now on sale at the Central Pharmacy.

IMPORTANT MEETING OF NEW YORK SOCIETY

The Empire State society will hold an important business and social meeting at the residence of Mrs. W. M. Higgins, 717 North Sixth street, on Tuesday evening, September 14, at 8 p. m., for the purpose of arranging for participation in the All States' Day parade during fair week, or later in the season, if it is thought best to make a special event of it later on in the winter. This is to be decided by the All States society itself and the fair commission.

As the society has to win the silver loving cup twice more to hold it permanently, it is hoped that all New Yorkers in Phoenix will join the society in their effort to make a good showing for the Empire state. All New Yorkers, whether members of the society or not, are cordially invited to be present and enjoy themselves.

Employers first declined to hire men who drank. Now they are beginning to draw the line at cigarette smokers. It seems only a question of time until telling Ford stories will be considered a sufficient excuse for severing diplomatic relations.
